ANTI-TRUST PLANS OF THE PRESIDENT

PRESENT TARIFF LAW.

Executive Much Pleased With Recent Letters Indicating Benefit to Business Conditions.

Washington, Jan. 19.—To facilitate "the processes of accommodation" as distinguished from the "processes of suits," is the controlling purpose behind the administration's anti-trust program. This was made plain this morning by President Wilson in his talks with callers.

In this connection the President called attention to the fact than an examination of the recent settlements, which the Department of Justice has made with various large combinations, show the attorney-general has not attempted to abate the laws but to arrange as to the method and the time within which adjustments should be made. This was predicted, he told callers, on a tacit understanding on the part of the affected corporations that the law has been violated or at any rate that present conditions are inconsistent with the law. He desires to create by the proposed legislation better machinery for the pro- adjustment.

President is much pleased with letters indicating that business conditions have been benefitted the new tariff law and that business concerns generally are confident of the future. These letters state, however, that certain businesses dependent upon the railroads for their profits are still in unsatisfactory condition.

It was authoritatively denied, however, that the President has expressed to any one a belief that the Eastern Railroads should be granted the five per cent increase in rates which they are demanding from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

CAPTURE WOMAN'S ASSAILANT.

Dover, Del., Jan. 19.—Clarence Simmons, the farmhand, near Summit Bridge who attacked Mrs. Morris Buckworth, on Friday last, while alone in he house with her one-year-old baby, and who escaped, was captured yesterday morning by Constable William Boyer and Policeman Cochran, on the Benjamin Gazel farm five miles southeast of Smyrna, teuanted by Edward Melson. When captured, Simmons was sitting by a stove warming himself after an all night tramp and had applied for food.

The negro admitted his guilt, at the same time making light of the affair, and was placed in the Smyrna lock-up with a guard until he is taken to New Castle, tomorrow, for a hearing.

HUMAN CHAIN SAVES FIVE.

Three Women And Two Men Skaters Rescued After Icy Bath.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Jan. 19.—By forming a human chain, skaters on Woodlawn Lake, near Ardsley, yesterday afternoon, saved from drowning three women and two men from New York.

An ice company had cut some ice and a thin coating had frozen over the water. The party did not notice this and five went through. The men grabbed the women when they came up, and by holding on to the edge of the ice kept them above water until other skaters came to the rescue. The chain was formed by men lying on their stomachs. The women were saved first and then the men. Two of the women fainted from the cold and were carried to the Woodlawn Hotel, where they were revived. After drying their clothes all returned to New York.

NEWS OF THE DAY

While skaters glided over the smooth ice at one end of Hayden Lake, forty miles east of Spokane, Mrs. Anna Zerbe and Mrs. Walter Schute took a fifteen-minute swim at the other end of the lake. The women swam through the icy waters a distance of 350 yards, and when they came out said they felt fine. "It was a dare that started Mrs. Schute and I to make the swim," states Mrs. Zerbe. "We put on our bathing suits in our house by the lake shore. Then we ran down the frozen ground to the lake. We had to run about two feet out on the ice, as the water was frozen near the shore."

Charles and Samuel Lawson, aged 20 and 17 years, were placed under arrest at Mount Airy, N. C., yesterday following a coroner's inquiry into the death of their father, William Lawson, a farmer, whose body was discovered in a shallow grave in a field near his home. It developed at the inquest that Lawson disappeared from his residence shortly before Christmas. Examination of his exhumed body showed that he had been shot through the heart. County officials claim that Lawson's sons have confessed to killing their father, alleging that they acted in defense of their mother, whom Lawson was abusing. Hilliard Jessup, a relative of the Lawson's, is also held in connection with Lawson's death.

Northern Indiana farmers are tango mad, and the rural dwellers are getting lessons on tangoing and hesitation waltzing from L. H. Leroy, who was once a clergyman and a circuit rider. Leroy found preaching the gospel did not pay. Now he has bought a phonograph, hired a feminine dancing partner, and is giving instruction at farm houses and cross-road villages.

ing ship after they had given up all hope, the thirteen members of the crew of the five-masted schooner, Fuller Palmer yesterday morning arrived in Baltimore aboard the Donaldson Line steamer Marina. The rescue was made by the Marina early Thursday morning about 154 miles southeast of Cape Cod. Since Monday morning, when the gale which swept the Atlantic coast had so battered the schooner that she began o leak, the crew had fought to keep her afloat.

Although the police of Sassart, Sardina, have cleared up the manner in which Miss Ellen Giles, a writer and artist, of Philadelphia, met death here last Thursday by shooting and is said to have been suicide, the reasons are still unknown, but it is said that her relations with her mother were strained and that the mother left Sassari some time ago and took her her abode in the village of Ololai. Miss Giles shot herself through the heart with a revolver as she sat in her bedroom The will of Miss Giles bequeathes $40,000 to her mother and her jewelry to a friend. Miss Giles had been living in Sardina since 1906, studying the manners and customs of the people. Miss Giles had been a victim of neurnstheria.

FORCED TO RUN WITH CAR.

Overcoat Fast in Door, Wearer is in Peril Until it Rips.

Kansas City, Jan. 19.—Persons returning from work or shopping shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening were startled by the appearance of a tall man wearing a green overcoat running beside of a northbound Westport avenue car on Grand Avenue, toward Eleventh St., The car was moving rapidly, so was the man. the bottom of his overcoat was caught in the front door of the car, when he dismounted at 12th street, and the incident was unobserved by the motorman.

To have paused a moment would have proven disastrous to the man. As the car approached Eleventh St., he was about out of breath. Suddenly the car gave a spurt and the overcoat was ripped in half, freeing the man.

STATEWIDE SURE, MINISTERS SAY

UPHEAVAL IMMINENT?

Richmond, Va., Jan. 19.—The annual field day of the anti-saloon league opened auspicioulsy yesterday in many churches throughout the city and from a standpoint of attendance was record-breaking. Strong sermons in the behalf of prohibition were preached, and the cause made great headway. The field day was a fore-runner of the convention of the league, which opens here Wednesday, and Sunday the occasion was augmented by the presence of the national officers, and many influential persons in the cause of temperance.

Dr. P. A. Baker, of Columbus, O., national president of the league, expressed himself as being highly pleased with the attendance of the congregations, but declared that the people of Richmond were not quite awake to the enormous work being accomplished, and had not responded as freely as was necessary to the funds. He stated that Richmond was somewhat behind other cities of the country in this respect, but felt sure that before the convention had adjourned, would realize what was needed, a donate more to the great cause.

Dr. McAllister occupied the pulpit at the Deny street Methodist church last night,and vigorously arraigned citizens of the State, the city and of Fulton, for allowing the saloons to exist without strenuous opposition from the church.

The speaker closed his remarks with a vigorous denunciation of the State Senate, which two years ago prevented the passage of the enabling act and whose attitude is practically an unknown quantity this session, although with few exceptions, the members have been sent to the General Assembly from the dry districts.

STILL BARRICADED.

Although food is today being furnished the woman and 9 children in the house by deputies new trouble has overtaken Beardsley. The woman referred to at the time as his wife, and others, as his sister-in-law, is suffering from a bullet wound in the knee. She was accidenteally shot last night when a revolver fell from a window sill. Beardsley refused to admit a doctor to the house to dress the wound. Bandages were passed through a window and Beardsley was instructed how to use them. The woman is soon to become a mother.

A partial truce is now in force about the Beardsley place. The besieged farmer has said he will surrender Wednesday providing his brother Charles takes charge of the children by that time. Beardsley insists that he shot Postmaster Putnam in defense of his children. The papers for the committment of the children to a charitable institution were not properly signed, he alleges, r he also asserts they were well clothed and fed.

Nearly every town in the Willamette Valley suffered damage, and several cities were without eletric lights for a time.

PASTOR BARTON'S ADDRESS.

Surprise Theatre Filled Last Night With Men and Women.

Last night there was inaugurated at the Surprise Theatre a special series of Sunday night free Bible lectures under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association. Last evening's speaker was Pastor B. H. Barton, of Philadelphia, his topic being: "Beyond the Grave." Next Sunday night S. F. Kendall will be the lecturer, whose theme will be: "Christ's Second Coming."

A brief devotional service was presided over by General W. P. Hall, who introduced the speaker.

Great interest was manifested in last evening's lecture, the things beyond the grave being presented from a standpoint both original and interesting.

The unquestionable evidence possessed by the Bible student that we will know each other in the next life came in for some consideration. He said: "If we do not retain a memory of our loved ones in the life to come we will not be ourselves, as personality is largely intertwined with memory. But this does not mean we shall know those with whom we are associated here by their looks; there are other ways of recognizing friends beside outward appearance."

"The Bible most emphatically teaches that some will be finally lost, but when we carefully consider the teachings of the Word of God we find abundant reason for believing that not nearly so many will be lost as we once imagined.

"Hell merely means the condition of death, and has no reference to a place where the lost suffer unending misery. One proof of this is the fact that we read of good people going to hell at death as well as bad. Even Jesus went to hell when he died according to the second chapter of Acts.

"When properly understood the Bible teaches ultimate annihilation of the wicked, their destruction being so complete that the Apostle in 2 Peter 2:12 compares it to be the destruction of brute beasts."

The speaker pictured the absurdity of considering the rich man and Lazarus as a literal statement, contending that if literal it would mean the saved and lost would be near enough to recognize each other, while the soul in torment could beg those above to bring them a drop of water to cool, which piteous appeal would have to fall on deaf ears .

He then proceeded to show that this was a highly figurative problem in which the rich man illustrated the nation of Israel. His torment referred to the persecutions experienced by the Jews after their national death.

BURNING OF WHITTLE HALL.

Seminary Hill was aroused yesterday morning about 9 o'clock by the discovery of a fire in Whittle Hall, the frame building which had been used for Sunday School and other purposes since 1889.

Shortly after the janitor had started a fire in the building preparatory to the meeting of the Sunday School, a blaze broke out from the chimney in an inaccessible place. An alarm was sounded and students of the seminary and high school responded, as well as neighbors, but notwithstanding their earnest efforts the structure was consumed in about an hour. The piano and furniture were saved.

The building was valued at $2,000 and was insured. Professor Green's residence was contiguous to the Sunday School, but it escaped injury.

The Sunday School will be held in Prayer Hall until a new building shall have been erected. This is the first fire on Seminary Hill since 1827 when the Theological Seminary was removed from Alexandria to its present location which resulted in the destruction of a building.

STABS IN REPLY TO A DUN.

York, Pa., Jan. 19.—Becoming angered, it is said, when George Ogle tried to collect a bill from him, John Fuss, it is charged, stabbed the former in the abdomen. Ogle is in the New York Hospital, with only slight hopes for his recovery, and Fuss has been arrested on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

The bill was for only a trifling sum, and the alleged attack took place on Fuss's front porch.

MORE POWER FOR THE SUPERVISORS

Delegate Lind Would Carry Home Rule Into Counties of the State.

RELIEVE CALENDAR.

Impossibility of Considering Matters of State Importance Under Present Conditions.

Richmond, Jan. 19.—By enlarging the powers of county boards of supervisors, Delegate W. A. Land, of Nottoway, in a bill now being prepared, proposes to relieve the biennial sessions of the General Assembly of a vast amount of special private and local legislation, open the way for serious importance, and at the same time apply to the counties the democratic principle of home rule.

Mr. Land says: "I am preparing a bill to enlarge the powers and duties of supervisors of counties, providing for more frequent meetings and giving them authority in all local matters within certain defined limitations, the powers to be similar to the powers of councils of towns under the present general law.

"Primarily my object is to relieve the General Assembly of this mass of work which prevents serious consideration of more important matters affecting the whole State. My plan will make the supervisors of counties practically a commission, with powers similar to commissions and councils in towns, and provide for regular meetings with compensation.

"It is objected that in some counties the supervisors are not competent to undertake this responsibility. The answer is that the counties should elect men who are competent. I am sorry for any county which has not such men willing to serve on its board. As a matter of fact, such matters are now passed on by one man—the delegate from the county in the General Assembly, who alone of all the members gives such private and local bills scrutiny, The counties would certainly be as well safeguarded by the action of a board of representative supervisors as they are by their one representative in the General Assembly.

GREEKS FAIL TO EVACUATE.

Still Occupy Epirus as Time Limit Expires.

Rome, Jan. 19.—The time fixed for the evacuation of Epirus by the Greeks expired yesterday. At the conference which M. Venizelos, the Greek Premier, had a few days ago with the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs the question of a postponement of the evacuation of southern Albania by the Greeks was discussed, and it was then considered probable that it would be allowed for reasons of public security. Even if undertaken immediately, the evacuation would occupy several weeks.

BICHLORIDE KILLS ON TIME.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 19.—After lingering 11 days, Mrs. Florence Wagsum, 30 years old, died last night at the Allentown Hospital, as the result of taking five tablets of bichloride of mercury with suicidal intent.

The medical fraternity watched the case with great interest, and predicted several days ago, almost to the hour, when death would ensue. The woman declined to tell her motive.

Victim of Tree's Flames.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 19.—Playing about a bon fire made of discarded Christmas trees, Thomas Clifton, aged 5, of ..o. 803 West Third St., was severely burned when his clothing was ignited, and it is doubtful whether he can recover.

The boy probably would have been burned to a crisp but for John Clark, aged 35, of No. 1914 Lancaster ave., who was passing the vacant lot where Clifton and his boy friends were playing and saw Clifton running away with fire spreading through his clothes. Clark caught the boy and wrapped his overcoat about him smothering the flames,but not before Clifton had been badly burned about the face, arms and chest.

Rages Four Hours in Storehouse Full of Wooden Patterns.

MANY ARE HOMELESS.

Philaledphia, Pa., Jan. 19.—Thousands of patterns of turbine engines and battleship parts, dating from the period of the Spanish-American war to the present time, were lost in a $200,000 blaze that raged four hours between 6 and 10 o'clock last night, in a four-story brick storehouse of the William Cramp & Sons' Ship and Engine Building Company in the block bounded by Cumberland, York, Richmond and Salmon streets. Fortunate great width of Richmond street prevented the flames from beating against the foundries of the I. P. Morris Company plant, and the main buildings of the ship yard, directly opposite. The flames did threaten for a time to engulf two oil tank cars that stood in the Pennsylvania Railroad freight yards, at Richmond and York streets, where a long line of board fence was consumed within ten minutes after a yard engine drew the cars away to a safe point. The storehouse was leveled to the ground, and the top floors of five houses at Nos. 2415-17-19-21-23 Salmon street were badly damaged. All the occupants escaped unharmed, however.

The thousands of turbine and ship parts patterns stored in the building destroyed last night may cause delay in future operations at the Cramp yards. It is said that some of the designs were for parts of ships scheduled for outfitting and repairing during the coming summer, and before castings can be made the patterns will have to be duplicated.

R. E. Lee Camp to Celebrate Anniversary of Birth of Great Commander

In connection with its annual custom R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans will tonight give a banquet and hold a reunion of veterans of the gray at their building on Prince street, near Columbus. All preparations have been made and an enjoyable time is assured those who may attend.

The banquet will be served by the women of the several Confederate auxiliary societies.

During the past quarter of a century the banquet of R. E. Lee Camp on the 19th of January has been anticipated with pleasure by many. While primarily a reunion of ex-Confederates, the doors have been opened to the wearers of the blue also, numbers of whom generally attend and at times make impromptu speeches. The mingling of the wearers of the blue and the gray is one of the many pleasant features which characterize these annual gatherings. The good cheer which has heretofore animated those who have gathered around the festive board will be manifest again tonight.

Anderson was one of Mosby's raiders. He was wounded near Fairfax Courthouse while on picket duty. He is said to have sighted the enemy and gone to awaken a comrade before spreading the alarm.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Luemma Anderson; two sons, Aubrey and Joseph, and two daughters, Fannie T., and Mary Anderson. He was the uncle of Dr. J. B. Anderson, of Lewinsville, Fairfax county, Va.

CLOSE OF THE SERVICES

Union and Overflow Meetings Bring Many Persons Together Last Night

The First Baptist Church was filled last night by persons anxious to be present at the last of the union meetings which commenced two weeks ago. Rev. Dr. J. L. Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church delivered the sermon. His text was Job XXIII,3—The soul in its search for God.

The overflow meeting was held in the Second Presbyterian Church, where Rev. C. K. Strausburg pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, occupied the pulpit. His theme was "the rich young ruler."

Nearly all the other Protestant Churches were closed last night in order that an opportunity might be afforded all members to participate in the union services.

Heretofore the various Protestant churches of Alexandria have united in a week of prayer at the beginning of each year, but the services took a more extended range this year when the pastors and people of virtually all the Protestant churches of the city, participated in union meetings. The success of the first week and the interest manifested induced those in charge of the meetings to continue them another week. While members of all churches have been present at the nightly gatherings, the class without the pale of the church has not attended in as large numbers as it was hoped they would, although this element has been represented, a measure, at all the meetings.

SUICIDE OF JAMES D. HALL.

Deceased, Who Married Washington Girl, Ends Life by Shooting.

James D. Hall, a well-known horseman, committed suicide last Wednesday midnight at his home, Grassland, in Fauquier county, Va. About a year ago Mr. Hall married Miss Jessie Watters, of this city, and took his bride to Grassland. Their married life had been happy, according to friends of the couple.

Mr. Hall shot himself with a pistol and was found dead the following morning. It was stated at first he had been hurt in a fox chase, falling from his horse on his head.

Grassland is about four miles from Front Royal, Va., and is one of the finest farms in that section. It was there that Mr. Hall raised most of the thoroughbred horses which helped to establish his reputation as one of the most successful horsemen in the country.

It is learned that Mr. Hall's mother who lives near Leesburg, Va., is ill and does not know of his death. Besides his mother, wife, and brother he is survived by another brother Robert Carter Hall, of Front Royal.

ROBBERIES IN THE COUNTY.

Two additional robberies in Braddock Heights, Alexandria county near the city limits, Friday, have been reported to the police of this city. The residence of J. M. Peake was entered and provisions, clothing and a child's bank, containing a small sum of money taken. At the residence of B. Studds, the thief was frightened away before he took anything.

WEATHER THIS WEEK.

No Unusually Cold Temperatures Expected.

Somewhat unsettled weather will prevail during the first part of the week over much of the country, but the latter part will be generally fair, the Weather Bureau announces.

"There are indications," the official bulletin said, "that the low pressures and rains and snows west of the Rocky Mountains will be terminated after Monday and will be followed by rising pressure, generally fair weather and lower interior temperatures until the latter part of the week, when another disturbance will probably approach the North Pacific Coast, bringing with it another period of unsettled weather over the north coast states at least.

"In the Plain States and the Northwest snows or rains, with continue high temperatures are probable by Tuesday or Wednesday, followed by fair and colder weather during the second half of the week.

"East of the Missouri river the weather will be unsettled, with snow or rains during much of the week, except that it will be generally fair during Monday and Tuesday in the great central valleys, and on Tuesday or Wednesday in the lake regions and the Atlantic States."

FRENCH LINGERIE

French lingerie to be worthy of our patrons, discriminating taste must be the only criterion of refinement and daintiness. More significance is attached to this thought in the less expensive grades than in those of higher pricing. This is because of the natural inclination of the French toward elaboration. As an evidence of the desirability of all our French lingerie we present these moderately priced varieties.

French handmade and embroidered Gowns, low, round, or square neck and short sleeved, some have just a fine buttonhole finish; fine materials. $2, 25, $2.75 and $3.00 each. French embroidered Drawers, knickerbocker, straight, and circular styles, plain or with ruffles, some slashed at side and prettily trimmed with ribbons. $1.50, $1.75, $2.25, and $2.75 pair.

Danville, Va., Jan. 19.—Oak Ridge Institute, in Guilford county, N. C., was burned early Saturday morning, entailing a loss of $50,000 with $18,000 insurance.

The Methodist Protestant Church, located near the two large school buildings, was also destroyed. Oak Ridge Institute is one of the oldest and most successful schools in the state. It had 275 boarding students. The fire originated in the Phi Literary Society room.

Oak Ridge Institute has for many years been conducted by J. M. Holt and boys from all parts of the country have been sent there to be educated, the place being noted for its scenic beauty and healthful climate surroundings, being not far from the mountains of North Carolina.

MRS. BOHM FATALLY INJURED.

Warrenton, Va., Jan. -19.—Mrs. Belle Bohm, daughter of Admiral J. A. Howell, U. S. N., retired, was thrown from a buggy while driving to Warrenton Saturday morning, and suffered what is feared, will prove a fatal injury. Mrs. Bohm was found on the Bethel road near the home of the late W. W. Finley unconscious, and was carried to the tenement house on the Finley place by some passers-by, who later came to Warrenton for medical assistance. Several fractures of the skull have been found, and it is feared an injury at the base of the brain will prove fatal. Local medical assistance was rendered, and several Washington specialitsts with nurses were wired for.

Later in the day Mrs. Bohm was placed aboard a train and taken to a hospital in Washington. She was accompanied by friends and several physicians. Reports from the hospital say that she has slight chance to recover.

CALL MODERN WOMAN DANGER

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19.—The new forms of religion were scathingly denounced yesterday by Cardinal O'Connell in an address before 4,000 men in the cathedral in observance of the Feast of the Holy Name.

Declaring that the semblance of decency was vanishing, the Cardinal said that on the stage, in the streets in the ball room and in the press and magazines of the country were daily evidences of moral decadence. He spoke with sorrow of American womanhood, stating that the modern woman was passing through a change which was leaving her hard and unwomanly and a growing danger to the family, the home and normal womanhood.

The Cardinal blamed for these modern evils the decay of Christianity. He declared that a new paganism was sweeping the country, and that in churches other than the Catholic, this paganism found no resistance, because the pulpit was filled by preachers at starvation wages, who delivered sermons "extolling the virtues of the coal barons, steel kings, and oil emperors, who paid the ministerial salaries." For leaders of this paganism he had words of scathing denunciation. Without mentioning names, he spoke of the new religion of President Emeritus Eliot, of Harvard as a thing "which was as old as error and has no real religion in it."

J. RUBEN and SONS

WANTS $10,000 DAMAGES.

Young Woman Searched in 10-Cent Store in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 19.—Claiming that she was publicly branded as a thief by employes of the defendant company, Lelia Gertrude Wade, minor, through her father and next friond, John G. Wade, has filed suit for $10,000 damages against the J. G. McCrory Company, Inc., in Husting Court Part II. The plaintiff in her declaration, asserts that she was falsely accused of taking a roll of paper, that she was humiliated by being searched in the store, and was publicly libelled by a statement issued by the defendant company.

On February 4th the girl went into the store as a customer. After purchasing some paper, employes of the place, she claims, called her a thief, and caught hold of her with force, shaking and dragging her to the rear of the store. There she was searched, she asserts, in the presence of a number of witnesses, but nothing beside the package she had paid for was found on her person.

Miss Wade, who bears an excellent reputation, claims that her good name has been greatly injured. She claims that since the transaction many of her neighbors have nothing to do with her, believing that she is a thief.

DISTRESS IN EUROPE.

Southern Section in Grip of Polar Wave.

Paris, Jan. 19.—What bids fair to be the worst cold wave in 50 years holds the south of western Europe in a tight grip. Temperatures as low as 4 below zero (Fahrenheit) have been registered at Yssingeaux and other points in the department of Haute-Loire, where conditions are steadily growing worse.

There have been heavy snowfalls in the departments of Herault and Tarn, playing havoc with the railroads. In some places the drifts are 18 feet deep.

At Marseille the temperature has touched 17 degrees. The roads are impassable and many accidents are reported. At Perpignan a number of people have been stricken down with the cold, and several are dying.

Near the Spanish frontier two Spanish carabineers have been lost in the snow and a rescue party is searching for them.

At Madrid the dead body of a woman was found buried in the snow in the streets. Two score persons have been injured by falls on the icy pavements.

All the canals and rivers of Belgium are frozen, and hundreds of barges with coal from Germany are ice-bound. The price of fuel is rising rapidly. Three hundred lighters in Antwerp harbor are frozen in.

In the department of Ardennes the temperature has reached 1 below zero.

Wild boars are coming out of the woods. Twenty-two of these dangerous beasts have appeared in the streets of Chiny, a small town of Belgium, causing great terror among the inhabitants.

Many workers have been thrown out of employment by the prolonged frosts. Seven deaths from the cold are reported from various parts of Belgium, totaling 26 for the week.

The rivers Seine and Marne in the neighborhood of Paris are becoming more and more choked with floating ice. Several accidents have resulted, and a steamboat, which collided today with an ice drift opposite the Louvre, had to put to shore hurriedly, and land her passengers.

Bologna, Jan. 19.—Snow, which has been falling in this vicinity for over 24 hours, has interrupted railroad communication and isolated some of the nearby villages.

It is reported that several persons have been frozen to death.

BURGLARS ESCAPE ON TRAIN.

Arvonia, Va., Jan. 19.—Burglars believed to have come in on freight trains, broke into the postoffice at Stearnes, three miles below Bremo Bluff, and attempted to open the safe, but were unsuccessful in their attempt. The same night the postoffice at Columbia, five miles east, was also broken open, supposedly by the same parties. Only about $5 in cash was secured at Columbia.

Bloodhouds were brought to both places, and the bounds tracked the burglars only as far as the railroad track in both instances, proving to the satisfaction of all that the burglars were beating their way on freight trains. Up to this time no clue of any kind has been discovered as to their identity.

TREASURE FOUND ON VESSEL.

Norfolk, Va., Jany. 19.—A veritable treasure trove came to light while one of the store rooms of the pay department on board the receiving gship Franklin, was being cleaned. Out of a disused desk, which had been turned on its side to permit its being carried through a narrow doorway, tumbled a parcel wrapped in a handkerchief, which when examined by chief Yeoman, V. B. Sturdevant, who was superintending the cleaning squad, was found to contain $662.20.

The finding of the money recalled the mysterious robbery of the pay office on the Franklin in 1910, when about $14,000 was taken from the safe. Past Assistant Paymaster W. P. Hilton, now of the United States steamship Celtic, was the pay officer of the Franklin at that time.

It was impossible to trace any of the stolen money or to fasten the theft on any one. The marine sentinel on duty at the postoffice on the night of the robbery, although it was not shown conclusively that he was privy to the robbery ,was given a prison term.

Bishop Gibson Ill.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 19.—Rt. Rev. Robert A Gibson, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Virginia, is seriously ill at his home, 906 Park Avenue. His illness is the result of an attack of acute indigestion, which caused his heart to be affected.

Although he was somewhat improved Saturday night he is not yet regarded as being out of danger. Rev. Churchill Gibson, of Luray, Va., a son of Bishop Gibson, was summoned by telegram, and is at the bedside of his father. Bishop Gibson is being attended by Dr. Edward McGuire.

GLASS'S VERACITY AT STAKE.

Widening of Legislative Breach Evidenced in Statement of Texas Representative.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Widening of the legislative breach between Representative Henry, House Rules Committee, and Chairman Glass, House Banking and Currency Committee, is evidenced in a statement by Representative Henry, questioning the veracity of Mr. Glass.

Mr. Henry declared that Mr. Glass was "hooked up" with Wall street when he wrote his first draft of the currency bill, and that it took the Democratic caucus and high "Democratic officials" to force Glass to recede from his Wall street concessions.

The controversy between Henry and Glass on money legislation has existed since Mr. Glass opposed Mr. Henry in an attempt to reopen hearings on the money trust. It became bitter with Glass's refusal to consider the Henry agricultural amendments to the currency bill.

"Ah! Carter," mocks Henry, "you ought to be ashamed to look the honest farmers of your State in the face. Cease whining against me and admit your total overthrow in the Democratic caucus.

"You started out to make a bill for the great bankers and exclude farmers and average citizens. We caught you and the combination of Larker Willis and the Wall street Journal of Commerce with the goods on, and in the caucus and Senate broke your compact with the great bankers."

Mr. Henry quoted from the original draft of the currency law to show that it provided that Federal reserve banks be permitted to purchase bonds of foreign governments. He called this bill a "star-spangled absurdity," About that time, says Mr. Henry, Mexico had $50,000,000 of her bonds floating around the New York market.

"Perhaps that accounts for some of the milk in the cocoanut that Mr. Glass was consuming, He was willing for Mexico and other foreign countries to be afforded an easy way to dispose of their bonds by his bill, but he had no such sympathy for States, counties and municipalities in the United States."

The Senate committee on privileges and elections, by a vote of 7 to 33 decided to recommend that Blair Lee, Democrat, is entitled to a seat in the Senate to succeed Senator Jackson, Republican, of Maryland, and by a vote of 9 to 1, determined to report adversely on the credentials of Frank P. Glass, appointed to succeed the late Senator Johnston, of Alabama.

GENERAL LEE'S BIRTHDAY.

Throughout the Southern country the anniversary of the birth of Robert E. Lee has been celebrated in one way or another today. It is a recognized holiday throughout Dixie and in most of the northern cities banquets will be given tonight and eulogiums delivered on the great American.

Robert E. Lee when he paid the debt of nature over two score years ago, became a bright star in the constellation of the great, not only in the land of his birth, but throughout the civilized world. In fact in the United States, where his greatness is naturally apreciated in all sections of the country, he is as Sirius following in the wake of Orion in the mid-winter season—a brighter orb than any composing the constellation.

Alexandria was General Lee's city, as it was that of George Washington. As was the case with the latter, General Lee's home at Arlington was contiguous to Alexandria, and he was as familiar a figure in our streets as that of the Father of the Country. While the dark clouds were gathering in the early part of the year of 1861 he was often among us and deplored the fact that civil war was inevitable.

At the close of hostilities he paid a visit to his old city and was tendered an ovation at the Mansion House, then at its zenith, and the turnout on that occasion was one of the greatest ever witnessed here.

This closing feature of the day will, as it ever has been, be pleasant in every detail.

INCREASING POWERS OF COUNTY SUPERVISORS.

As will be seen elsewhere in the Gazette, Delegate Land, of Nottoway county, has introduced a bill in the Legislature for the purpose of giving more power to the boards of supervisors of counties. It is a chronic complaint that most of the time of the sixty-days' session of the General Assembly is consumed in transacting minor business of counties which should be disposed of at home. Under present conditions each delegate comes to the Legislature with his arms full of measures mostly concerning local matters, and measures of state-wide importance are hampered and often die in committee by the time the Speaker's gavel falls announcing the close of the session.

The patron of the bill makes some good suggestions concerning reform in this direction. He calls attention to the fact that good men, having the interests of the counties at heart, should accept these complimentary positions, and that power should be delegated to supervisors to act upon many matters which are now brought biennially to the Legislature,

The course suggested by Mr. Land has been adopted in cities, and certain matters which in by-gone years were brought to the City Councils are now disposed of by departmental boards—notably fire wardens, police and electoral boards. At one time every bill presented for services at elections in Alexandria had to be presented to the city fathers, referred to a committee and reported by them before the Auditor would draw his check. The city was forced to pay for their publication in the official proceedings of both boards twice—upon the introduction of the bills and when the committee reported upon the same—by which procedure the printing bill amounted to almost as much as the demands. For many years these claims have been paid by the electoral board.

LARGE TURNOUTS AT RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

The religious fervor which has been in evidence in Alexandria during the past two weeks resulted last night in packing the First Baptist Church, where the union meeting was held, as well as the Second Presbyterian Church, in which the overflow meeting was conducted. Apart from these, the Surprise Theatre was filled by members of all denominations, men and women, young and old, to hear the address of Evangelist Benj. H. Barton, of the International Bible Students' Association of Brooklyn, N. Y. His address was listened to with close attention.

It is the purpose of the association to have similar meetings in the Surprise Theatre for three successive Sunday nights. Next Sunday night an address on the Second Advent will be delivered.

The object of this organization is to bring about a closer study of the Bible and to increase interest in the book of books, which the members believe is sadly neglected in this day.

DANCER SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Jigging to Keep Warm, Jars Revolver From Pocket And it Explodes.

New York, Jan 19.—His jigging to offset the nipping cold is responsible for the fact that John Punti, 17 years old, of Brooklyn, is wounded and a prisoner in the Brooklyn Hospital today. His wound, while not severe, will keep him in bed for several days, after which he will be arraigned in Police Court on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The police said Punti's jigging jarred his revolver out of his hip pocket and on striking the pavement was discharged, lodging a bullet in the fleshy part of his thigh.

Woman Attempts Suicide

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 19.—Stricken with remorse because she had given information which implicated her husband in the sending of Black Hand letters, Mrs Louise Cizick yesterday attempted to kill herself in the presence of detectives in the city hall. Drawing a hat pin from her hat she plunged it in her breat The detectives, however, seized her arm and prevented the pin from sinking far enough into the flesh to inflict a vital wound. She was taken to the Philadelphia Hospital only slightly wounded.

Make Big Income Gains.

A gain of 752.6 per cent in the net income of Virginia electric railways was made in the decade of 1902-1912 according to a bulletin of the Census Bureau issued today. The gross income of the twenty companies in the state was $7,247,056 in 1912, $5,401,115 in 1907, and $1,667,022 in 1912 The net income after deducting operating expenses, fixed charges, and taxes grew from $109,936 to $937,311 in the decade.

While the number of miles of line grew from 266 to 418, and the number of employes from 1,066 to 3,563, the number of companies was reduced from 21 in 1902, and 24 in 1907 to 20 in 1912.

Strike at Wilkesbarre.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 19. — The strike order of the officers of the Delaware and Hudson's Trainmen Union today was obeyed almost to a man here. About 210 employes who reported to the round house have refused to take out their trains.

There was no disorder. The men merely waited for additional orders from their leaders.

Engaged by Wireless.

New York, Jan. 19.—First Officer A. C. N. Niles, of the steamer Caribbean popped the question to Miss Maude Andrews, actress, by wireless. She signed to play Juliet to his Romeo, for life.

John D. Rockefeller gave the children at the Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Baptist Sunday School yesterday instruction in investing money, and he distributed 711 bright new pennies among them to be returned with interest, he said, in an address as a basis for a home mission fund. "I want each child to invest his penny until he has made 1 cent for each year of his age, and then return the money to the home mission fund. For instance, a boy 7 years old might buy newspapers with his penny and sell them and buy and sell more until he has accumulated 7 cents. A girl may buy cloth with her cent and sell fancy needlework."

Mr. Frank C. Steward, President,

Dear Sir:

I wish to offer you my hearty congratulations upon the really remarkable success of Steward's Business College. I know of no institution in Washington in the last twenty years that has made such wonderful strides in such a short space of time as your college has. It is possible, however, that when one thoroughly understands your methods that your phenomenal growth will not seem so remarkable, and I believe that as people become to understand it your future growth will be greater than your past and present.

Assuring you of my wishes that my prophecy will come true, I am

The Dewar Cup Presented to The Cadillac.

BRITISH FAVOR CADILLAC AXLE

In connection with the recent award of the Dewar Trophy to the Cadillac—the second time within five years that this treasured mark of merit has been bestowed on the Cadillac—it is interesting to note how the British automobile authorities regard the Cadillac's two-speed direct drive axle.

This axle was even more of an innovation in Great Britain and Europe than in the United States; but it is very evident, from published comments, that it has found immense favor among those qualified to speak with authority on the subject of motor car advancement.

The Autocar, one of the leading publications, of England, declaring it would be difficult to outline an ideal car that did not incorporate this feature, says:

"When the Cadillac system is combining ignition, lighting and engine startin gin one electrical system was introduced two years ago, it was very properly regarded as a bold step; experience has shown it to be as successful as it was bold. Today the Cadillac designers have made another inovation, which personally, we regard as even a greater improvement than the very important one of two years ago. As a basis, they have taken the old idea of two pairs of bevel gears, either pair working alternately, and giving the car two different gear radios; but the way in which the Cadillac designers have adopted it is new, and the working results are not merely satisfactory, they are so good they make a distinct forward step toward the long-sought ideal of direct and noiseless gears on all speeds.

"We have had a bit of experience with high-geared fourth speeds, the direct drive on the third speed and the indirect on the fourth. We found these indirect fourths pleasant to use, but the moment we put on the high indirect fourthfi the box began to make its working apparent. Now with the Cadillac, one gets all the advantages of the high fourth, but without the noise; its simply, as it were, calms down the engine without any counter balancing noise or other objection.

After once experiencing the delight of two direct ond noiseless drives one feels that it is difficult to outline a ideal car which does not contain the feature, and we feel fairly safe in asserting that the Cadillac successful reintroduction of an old idea will be followed by other makers."

MINISTERS IGNORE HEAVEN.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 19.—Declaring that there are too many pastors in the pulpits now who worry more about how the government of the city of Baltimore is run than how the government of Heaven is conducted, Bishop Wm. A. Qualye, of St. Paul Minn., preached last night at old Eutaw Methodist Episcopal Church before a big congregation.

"They tell you how the government of the city ought not to be run, but they do not tell you about the government of Heaven," said Bishop Quayle. "They should take up the whole geography, but they should not forget Heaven while they are in the pulpit. Capt. John Smith, who started up the Chesapeake Bay in a boat to sail around the world was no more foolish than some of our preachers, who, if they know anything about Heaven, do not seem able to tell their people the right course to take to get there."

LEAVES FOR VIRGINIA.

Mrs. Willetts Believes Divorces Should be Obtained Without Publicity.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Before leaving Washington for her Virginia estate, Mrs. Marie Holmes Willett, who is suing Samuel Willetts, the New York clubman, for divorce, gave some maxims on marriage and divorce.

"It is pitiable how many poor women, through lack of nerve and a cowardly fear of divorce publicity, live with scoundrels and unsuitable mates for years," she said.

"Marriage should be made harder. It is a fault in our social structure, that young people can enter the marital state without giving the venture sufficiently serious consideration. You can make a mistake in the selection of a male just as easily as you can erroneously select other things in life.

"I believe a woman should be enabled to obtain a divorce easily, without publicity and a lot of fuss over it.

"No woman or man knows when fate is going to send him into love with another being."

Mr. Willetts, who has been spending the week-end in Washington consulting with lawyers about the suit filed against him, did not leave Washington until yesterday afternoon for New York. It is understood Mr. Willetts will return especially to direct his fight against the divorce, which will be heard January 27, in Fairfax Court House.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW TO OPEN TONIGHT

AT CONVENTION HALL.

Marine Band to Furnish Music —Society Night Thursday When President Wilson is Expected to Attend.

For the second time in the history of the American Motor car a President of the United States will officially open an automobile show. President Wilson has consented to press a button tonight at 8 o'clock which will open the annual automobile show to be held this week in Convention Hall, in Washington and thus set the wheels in motion. When he presses the button at the White House tomorrow night, a huge American flag which has been hung in the highest point inside the auditorium will unfurl and drop down in the center of the hall, where it will form one of the decorative features of show week. The United States Marine Band, under Lieut. Wm. H. Santelman, will play a patriotic air as the flag unfurls.

The show will then be on and continue until next Saturday night.

The affair, like last year, is being held under the auspices of the Washington Automobile Dealers's Association, and is the second event of this character undertaken by the organization. The show will continue every day from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10:30 o'clock each evening. The decorations this year will be more magnificent and costly than on any previous occasion.

After months of preparation the show committee of the association completed arrangements yesterday for the final exhibits and the arrangement of the show cars in the hall.

The color scheme this year will be white and gold. The entire ceiling of the hall will be covered with material of these colors, so that the steel girders will not be seen, as was the case at previous exhibits. Even the side walls will be decorated. In this manner the canopy effect will stand out more prominently and prove to be something entirely new in the decorative line. Green burlap will be spread over the floor of the various exhibits, with the exception of the aisle about the hall, which will be kept clear. At brief intervals along the sides of the exhibits, extending the length of the arena, will be a number of ornamental lamp posts, with side arms, from which will hang electric lamps. In the ceiling thousands of small incandescent lamps will add to the blaze of glory. Southern smilax will be generally distributed and will form festoons from the highest point in the ceiling and will extend down to the side walls.

As a result of the visit to the automobile show held in New York two weeks ago and the Philadelphia show last week, many attractive exhibits were obtained by the committee and will be on display all this week. A special train conveying the exhibition cars left the Quaker city Saturday night at midnight. Some of these exhibits will be shown in the east for the first time. Included in the exhibits will be the several cycle cars, which created such a sensation at the show held in New York. These will also be shown here for the first time, and judging from the interest displayed in this new type of transportation, they will attract more than the usual amount of attention of visitors to the show.

A feature of the show during the week will be the musical program concerts every afternoon and evening by the United States Marine band, under the personal direction of Lieut. Wm. H. Santelman, leader, of that famous organization. Last year was the first time that this band had ever been engaged to furnish musical concerts for an automobile show, and so great was the demand that the show committee decided to engage the services of the band again this year. Thursday night has been selected as "Society night," on which occasion the price of admission will be doubled. This is one night which is always featured at all of the big automobile shows in the country and has always been a drawing card in the capital. Invitations have been extended to President Wilson and the members of his family, members of Senate and House of Representatives and the judiciary.

The show committee, to the members of which credit is due for the arrangement of the event this year, is composed of T. Oliver Peobey, chairman; Charles W. Semmes, vice chairman; R. Bruce Emerson, secretary and treasurer; Arthur Foraker, treasurer; F. C. Sibbald, J. H. Johnson, Jr., Wm. P. Barnhardt, T Lamar Jackson, C H. Warrington, and Irving J. Henderson.

Employes of Delaware And Hudson Railroad Demand Reinstatement of Two Employes.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 119.—A strike of approximately 5,000 employes on the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company's lines from Rouse's Point, N. Y., to Wilkes Barre, Pa., began early this morning as a result of the refusal of the company to grant the men's demands for the reinstatement of two of their number.

Engineers, firemen, conductors, telegraphers and trainmen were ordered out. Shopworkers and office employes were not included.

All trains will be run to their terminals in order to avoid tying up mail and express. Agents, telegraphers signal men and tower men were permitted to remain on duty until noon. Union men expressed the opinion that at that hour the entire system will be tied up.

C. S. Sims, vice-president and general manager of the company, was notified as soon as the strike order was signed. He immediately appealed by telegraph to the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation in Washington requesting it to intervene. C. W. W. Hanger, assistant commissioner and secretary of the board, wired the union representatives here asking the withholding of the order pending mediation. They received this telegram two hours after the majority of their committeemen and grand lodge officers had left to draw the men from the service.

Martin C. Carey, vice-president of the Order of Railway Conductors, informed Commissioner Hanger his instructions from the grand lodge officers were that a settlement might be affected only by the reinstatement of the two men whose cases are unsettled.
